SUNSET
Softly o'er the Western hills
Fades the light of day;
Softly now the whippoorwill
Sings their mournful lay.
Silently the sun god slips
Far beyond our sight,
And above the farthest hills
Flash the wings of night.

Come and bring your friends.

A THING OF BEAUTY

Is a Joy Forever—Traxel's New Soda Fountain

The most beautiful, costly and sanitary soda water fountain ever installed in this city or Northern Kentucky, is that of Traxel in his up-to-date West Second street confectionery store. The fountain proper and appurtenances occupy a space of twenty-one feet, and is of marble and German silver. A plate looking-glass 20x6 feet adorns the back stand, and altogether it is a thing of beauty and a satisfying joy. The syrup pumps are of German silver, and syrup jars of sanitary white porcelain. The fountain is a most elaborate one and worth seeing.

FISCAL COURT

Court met in special session yesterday morning, Judge Rice presiding and all Magistrates, together with County Attorney Thomas D. Slattery, present.

The settlement of Sheriff W. H. Mackey for taxes of 1911 was produced in Court, read and ordered filed and spread upon the records. Ordered that the Sheriff's receipt from the County Treasurer for the full amount of county revenue for 1911 be received, filed and spread upon the records and it is now ordered that a quietus for the 1911 county tax be and the same is hereby issued unto him.

Ordered that the report of the Finance Committee this day produced in Court be received, filed and spread upon the records, which same is as follows—

To the Honorable Fiscal Court of Mason County—Gentlemen: We, your Finance Committee, would report that we have examined your Sheriff's settlement and his receipt from County Treasurer and would report that he has paid to the County Treasurer the full amount of the county revenue for 1911 which he is charged in said settlement.

J. O. FICKRELL, Chairman.
J. W. HOLLADAY.

The following claims were allowed—
M. C. Russell Co., supplies $16.50
Worrell Manufacturing Co. $50.00
Ordered that Court adjourn until Court in course.

Deafness Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; unless a course of treatment is taken, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

WEATHER REPORT

WARMER, RAIN TODAY; SUNDAY, RAIN AND SNOW, COLDER.

Mrs. Minnie Pense of Mason, Ohio, is here visiting her brother, Agent W. W. Wikoff of the C. & O., who is still quite ill at his home in East Fourth street, but is thought to be improving slowly.

Mr. W. J. Curtis of Mt. Olivet returned home this morning. Mr. Curtis was highly pleased with his sale at the loose leaf market here, having received an average price of $27.92 for his crop of tobacco.

Sale of Property Not Confirmed

The sale of the Marvin property to P. N. Bradford was not confirmed by the Common Pleas Court. Mr. Bradford bid the property in at Sheriff's sale several weeks ago. Mrs. Ella Marvin Power, one of the heirs at law, had the sale postponed for thirty days, when it will be resold.

DISASTROUS FIRE

Probably Prevented by Timely Discovery by a Child

Yesterday about 1:30 o'clock little Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Orr, while playing in the back yard at her home in East Second street, Fifth Ward, discovered the kitchen roof afire at the home of Mrs. Eliza McClanahan, a nearby neighbor. The child informed its mother and the latter hastened to a firebox, and in true Spartan spirit, sent in an alarm that brought the Kinney Mac and crew on the scene in short order. The fire was caused by a defective flue and had gained considerable headway when discovered, and it was by prompt action that disaster was averted. The fire was extinguished with the chemical apparatus. The aged occupants, Mrs. Eliza McClanahan being 91 years past and in feeble health, were removed to the home of a neighbor and cared for during the excitement and progress of the fire. The damage will probably reach $100.

DONE BY "CLAIRVOYANTS"

Gullible Louisville Women Swindled By Cheap Scheme

LOUISVILLE, Ky., February 23d.—The indictment of a clairvoyant here today on the charge of swindling two women out of $2,300, revealed a series of incidents by which women are alleged to have lost various sums, which the police believe will total $20,000, by a system featured by its lack of plausibility. The promise of health and wealth was the lure.

Uriel Buchanan, the clairvoyant, and his manager, Jack Graham, also indicted, are thought to have left the city last Saturday or Monday before exposure came. Following the announcement of the indictments today, information was reported to the police of the disappearance of a woman clairvoyant, through the complaints of two women that they had been swindled by her to the extent of $900.

Buchanan had many methods, principal of which was instruction to women to put all their money into chambray bags and hang them around their necks. He promised that through his powers they would find themselves fabulously rich and cured of all ills. The wealth then disappeared.

THE realty and personal taxable valuation of Ohio in 1910 was $2,484,315,574, but under the new one per cent law, this jumped to $6,302,132,511 in 1911. This is shown by the figures given out today by the State Treasurer's office. The gain in realty is 158 per cent and on the personalty 132 per cent. The information was prepared for the use of the delegates to the constitutional convention.

In Minneapolis, where 325 vacant lots were cultivated last year and made to produce nearly $12,000 worth of vegetables and flowers, one important result was the improvement in the appearance of the city. Acre after acre of weeds, writes the city editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, who is Chairman of the committee on vacant lot gardens, that were displayed last year will not be seen in 1912. The police will enforce the ordinance relating to the cutting of weeds and the removal of rubbish from vacant lots, and where they fail, the people who are cultivating the lots will exercise some pressure upon vacant lot owners whose unimproved property abuts on theirs.

Without expatiating upon the general merits or demerits of Senator Newcomb's automobile bill that has so stirred the owners of machines throughout the State, there is certainly one One Good Feature. feature of it that should meet with universal approval. It is that which relates to "joy riding." The bill proposes that when any one takes an automobile from a garage or elsewhere, without the consent of the owner, the act shall be considered as a felony. Auto owners will certainly endorse this feature and should be willing to take a little bit of the bitter along with that which is directly in their interest.—Frankfort News-Journal.

As a general thing, when a man has money to burn he is not after more.

Another thing—if some men preached what they predicted, it would be a shame to hear their sermons.

As we understand it. Mr. CARNEGIE had nothing to do with the Carnegie Steel Company, beyond the fact that he owned most of it.—St. Louis Times.

The possibility of the conveyance of typhoid germs by means of vegetables and fruits has long been suspected, and as a result of studies in recent years, evidence has been collected that such foodstuffs play an important part in the transmission of typhoid infection. Typhoid fever is a rural disease; typhoid fever patients are frequently found on farms where green vegetables are cultivated for market; and, in some localities at least the practice is prevalent of using human excreta as fertilizer to force the growth of vegetables that are intended to be eaten raw.

To determine the factors responsible for the spread of typhoid fever, it is highly important to determine how long the typhoid germ can live under natural conditions. In recent years a number of investigators, working under different conditions, have recovered this organism from previously contaminated soil after varying periods up to fifty days, and Mair regained the organism after eighty-four days from soil inclosed by glass and moisture added. Since the longevity of the typhoid bacillus in unsterilized water ranges from seven to thirty days, it would seem that the soil might serve as a reservoir of infection to the stream which drains it.

The latest work on this subject is reported by CREEK, who conducted experiments both within doors and in the open air, with exposure to rain and sunlight. The typhoid organism was carried up from the soil by the growing plants, and on repeated examination the organisms were recovered from the leaves and stems up to thirty-one days. A leaf of lettuce from an infected bed yielded positive cultures after three washings, thus indicating that rainfall will not free vegetables from infected material. These results have practical significance in view of the insanitary conditions on many farms. The demand for fresh vegetables being so great and the means of transportation so rapid, vegetables grown in one section may be shipped great distances and used by large numbers of persons. There is danger of the transmission of typhoid fever by this means. The Journal of the American Medical Association thinks that the inspection of truck farms would be advisable, and permits for the cultivation of vegetables for public sale might properly be withheld from all farms on which improper methods of fertilizing are practiced.

Foolish Philosophy.

"Not much," Bessie is my dog."

Easy to prove local testimony. Frederick Drenel, 1238 East Second street, Maysville, Ky., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a most excellent remedy for kidney trouble and am only too glad to speak in its behalf. About five years ago I was bothered by weak kidneys and the kidney secretions were scanty and attended with pain during passage. Sharp twinges across the small of my back were common and greatly interfered with my work. While telling a friend of my condition, he advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a box at J. J. Wood & Son's Drugstore. I used them according to directions and they afforded me prompt relief."

Losing the Social Instinct

"My dear," said young Mrs. Allison, peeling off her gloves and flinging them down with a snap, "you did well when you renounced the frivolities of life."

"When I—er—what?" gasped the matron with auburn hair, as she dropped an extra lump of sugar into her caller's tea and set the cup down hurriedly.

"Well, why not?" inquired young Mrs. Allison. "That will do, dear. I take only two lumps, not the whole bowlful."

"Explain yourself, Celeste!" demanded the young matron with auburn hair, severely. "Has any one been saying that I am getting fat and stolid or is this your inimitable way of criticising my winter wardrobe?"

Young Mrs. Allison smiled inscrutably. "Celeste," said her hostess again, sharply, "if you weren't my best friend I should call that a positive grin."

Young Mrs. Allison continued to grin, happily. "Well, she said, after selecting the thinnest sandwich on the tray and biting into it with caution, 'to begin with, you've moved to a suburb, haven't you?'"

"Um-mm; is that all?" "No, but that's one thing." "Very well; what next?"

"And you've stopped wearing false hair."

"Why, yes, so I have," admitted the hostess, tranquilly. "I got tired of the heavy stuff, and when I happened to think it over I couldn't see any reason why I shouldn't let my hair stand on its own merits."

"Exactly," agreed young Mrs. Allison. "Thirdly, you've dropped the bridge club!"

The matron with auburn hair sighed. "I had to," she explained. "And," she added, with a sudden burst of confidence, "you've no idea, dearest, what a relief it is. For two years, once a week, I've hooked myself into my best clothes and sat all of a pleasant sunny afternoon in some one's stuffy drawing room gambling for, let us say, a green sunshade that would make me look, if I won it, like a horse show poster. I have partaken enthusiastically of strudel-like ice creams and oily salads forty-five minutes before dinner hour." She paused for breath and smiled suddenly upon her caller. "Instead of all that," she concluded, "I now repose in this easy chair with a book and a box of chocolates, which achieve the same effect upon my appetite, but are less strenuous."

"Nonsense," said young Mrs. Allison. "You're losing the social instinct, that's all! All suburbanites do. But, as I remarked to begin with, you have adopted the wise course."

She frowned thoughtfully, while her hostess waited in silence. "Well?" her hostess demanded, finally.

"It's very tragic," said young Mrs. Allison. "You know my Aunt Elvira?"

The matron with auburn hair nodded. "The poor woman who was so ill at your house last summer," she said.

"Poor nothing," contradicted young Mrs. Allison, sternly. "There's nothing the matter with Aunt Elvira but imaginary diseases. She's so crabbed that her own children won't live with her, and she's so rich that her other relatives have to. She takes a private car down to Florida every winter and I had thought that Fred and I could make rather pleasant use of an invitation to go with her this year, because Fred didn't get any vacation in the summer."

"Well, my love, last week Saturday I positively dragged Fred home from the office to go out to the Country club with me in the afternoon. I felt that my system demanded the diversion and I didn't want to go alone. It was a horrid, chilly trip and our supper out there was miserable. When we got home this is the message written on Aunt Elvira's visiting card that met me in the hand of the maid: "Dear Celeste—I'm sorry you couldn't take time from your pursuit of pleasure to comfort my tired and travel stained self. I'm going over to Cousin Emma's. Respectfully, A. E."

The matron with auburn hair gasped. "But did you know she was coming?" she asked.

"Oh, no," said young Mrs. Allison, composedly, "not having a sixth sense for her arrivals in town. It's just one of her little eccentricities, that's all! Cousin Emma goes to Florida on Thursday," she added, sadly.

"Well, of all things!" cried the matron with auburn hair, sympathetically. "After you and Fred had it all planned!"

"Well," admitted young Mrs. Allison, slowly, "as a matter of fact, Fred hadn't planned exactly. He seemed positively to enjoy the situation. He said he had a picture of himself going, anyway. And he added that he'd rather pound rocks than to go anywhere with Aunt Elvira. Good-by, dear; I'm going to join your easy chair brigade and do my hair flat in the back."

Logical Progress. "The new show went like a breeze." "I was told the backer had to send a lot of drafts."

MISS DELIA TORREY

President's Aunt Who is Again a Visitor at the White House

Miss Delia Torrey, President Taft's aunt, who is making her annual visit to the White House, may be said to be the most welcome guest the President has ever housed. The affection of Aunt Delia for Nephew Will and the veneration of the President for Miss Torrey have been the subject of wide comment.

Miss Torrey is the President's favorite aunt. The old time apple pies with which she delighted him as a boy have lost none of their attraction for him now that he is at the head of a Nation. And Aunt Delia has promised to make some of her pies during her present visit.

Miss Torrey is eighty-seven years. Her home is at Millbury, Mass., not far from Beverly, where the President spends his summers. She will remain at the White House until March.

Killed Sheep Killing Dogs

Augusta Chronicle
Last Friday about dusk dogs killed two fine ewes, one about ready to lamb, and almost killed a fine buck, as well as crippling ten others, belonging to Harry Calvert near Chatham. Mr. Calvert saw his own dog, accompanied by one belonging to his brother-in-law, William Reynolds, and a hound belonging to Alonso Story going in the direction of the sheep. When Mr. Calvert went to look after his sheep he found them scattered all over the farm, while the three dogs were on an adjoining farm. He killed his own dog with a shot gun, shot at the hound but missed him. As soon as Mr. Reynolds was advised that his dog had been after the sheep he was dispatched also; and being a farmer and gentleman, dog heaven has likely increased in population before this by Mr. Story killing his dog.

DEATH ON GALLOWS ANNULS INSURANCE

Supreme Court Gives Decision in the Case Growing Out Of Execution of McCue at Charlottesville

The United States Supreme Court decided that an execution on the gallows annuls life insurance policies.

The decision was rendered in the case growing out of the hanging of ex-Mayor McCue of Charlottesville, Va., for the murder of his wife. McCue carried heavy insurance and the insurance companies refused to pay the claims. The case was carried to the Supreme Court by the administrator and has been pending for several years, resulting in the decision rendered.

MISSIONARIES TO BE PRESENT

Sixty From the Foreign Fields Will Be in Cincinnati During Great Exposition.

WILL HELP AT MUSIC HALL

An Interesting Group of People Who Have Done Valuable Work at Their Various Stations—Will Be Well Entertained.

Sixty leading missionaries from all parts of the world are to be in Cincinnati during "The World in Cincinnati" exposition from March 9 to April 6, and will take a prominent part in the life of the exposition. Many of those expected are veterans in the service, having spent the larger part of their lives in foreign countries.

Morning Call, Japan Scene, "The World in Cincinnati."

Some have done valuable work in the exploration of the countries where they have been stationed, while others, fulfilling ex-officio the duties of ambassadors, have given valuable assistance to the United States government.

While there they will be on duty at Music Hall in the departments which are representative of the countries from which they come. Their duties will consist of giving information to visitors and instructing the stewards of the exposition in their work.

THREE GREAT HALLS

All of Large Building Will Be Utilized by Exposition

Home and Foreign Missions Will Each Have Rooms While Pageant Will Have Auditorium.

"The World in Cincinnati" Exposition, which is to be held in Music Hall, Cincinnati, from March 9 to April 6, will occupy every square inch of the entire Music Hall group of buildings. Those who have visited exhibitions in this famous structure know that there is a large auditorium in the center, with exhibit halls on each side. For the purpose of "The World in Cincinnati" the north exhibition hall is to be called the "Hall of Foreign Lands" and the south exhibition hall the "Hall of the Homeland," while the main auditorium will be known as the Pageant Hall.

Both floors of the Hall of Foreign Lands will be occupied by the sections devoted to the scenery and the imperfections of life in foreign lands. Every part of the world will be represented. Large areas of the hall will be devoted to India, Japan, China, Korea, Burma, Africa, Palestine, Persia, Turkey and other countries. In the Hall of the Homeland visitors will find the sections devoted to the work of missionaries in various parts of the United States and its colonial possessions. Here will be a section devoted to American Indian life and another section illustrating life on the frontier, with life-like scenes representing Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippines, educational work among the negroes of the South, the work among the mountain people of the Alleghenies and a miniature reproduction of the Ellis Island Immigration Station in New York Harbor.

In the Pageant Hall the great Pageant of Darkness and Light will be given every afternoon and evening, commencing at 3 and 8 o'clock.

CORRESPONDENCE

MT. GILEAD.

The prospect is pretty fair for small grain. The tobacco is most all delivered at low prices.

Our people are all on foot, but many are suffering with colds.

After the coldest February weather on record, these beautiful days now forcibly remind us that cropping time is again near at hand, and we are eagerly hoping we may have a more favorable season for growing what we plant. The severe winter, together with the short crop last year, causes stock feed to be scarcer than ever known, and without favorable weather till grass time, stock will suffer. The needy are now begging and can't be supplied.

In the past we have all had our joys and sorrows, our triumphs and disappointments, through which some have taken advantage of opportunities and honestly and contentedly acknowledged to God that "He doeth all things well." Others are continual pessimists, each in proportion as the opportunities are improved or neglected. Those neglected in the past should be posted up as danger signals for a warning and guidance in the future.

God has really blessed us in our efforts, but his recompense of reward is in the hands of syndicates, trusts and combines, and if something is not done by the farmers to change the condition of things the result will continue to be fatness in the homes of the rich, and poverty in the homes of those who create riches. The business of the country is not satisfactory. The cost of delivering and other charges on a load of tobacco that sells for 2c a pound, is the same as one at 10c. The same with cattle, hogs, &c. Taxes are going up. The producing classes are depressed and growing poorer while the trades and exchanges are growing fat. How shall the producer, whether on the farm, shop or factory, (the creator of all wealth) renege himself in his rights and assume his proper place in the great struggle of life? It is a big question. It will require big manhood to meet it.

Will the farmers be found wanting? By co-operation and associate effort, lawyers and doctors fees are set, as well as the price of the oil we burn, the clothes we wear, the food we eat, implements we use and medicine we take. The fact is, trusts, combines syndicates and rings, appear to have control of the entire business of the country.

Wealth is now drifting to the few from the many. I, the day is near at hand, the light is now breaking when the millions of farmers and other toilers will band together from necessity and with united hands and hearts and brains, demand with one voice, equity and justice to secure a fair proportion of the profits of their labor. Their voice will be heard in counting rooms of the great marts of trade, in the halls of the Legislature, in the Courthouse, in the factory, in the exchanges of stocks and bonds; nor will the roar of machinery or the thunder of railroad trains drown its voice.

Who can stand before the voice of the people when that voice comes from millions with brave hearts, strong arms and honest brains. The people are the highest power in this country.

It is coming, unless truth and equity has gone to the dogs and the devil is in the saddle. As long as the farmers permit the big dogs to set the tone and fix the measure they are called honest yeomen, the salt of the earth; but as soon as they begin to do a little of their own thinking and acting they are called fools. The farmers are waking up and have commenced talking and thinking. They are coming together in different organizations and asserting their independence and fearlessly speaking their minds. They claim that a fair "tote" is all they ask and want be satisfied with anything less; that is, fair trade and honest dealing, for they are the big class in this country and "tote" the big end of the pole.

They have a big interest in this government and they propose to look after it. They are watching with deep interest the investigations now going on with a view of taking advantage of results, which are, no doubt, working to their favor, and encouraging them to press for the mark of their oil, causing more and more demand for equalization in individual interests. Success calls for a holding fast to what is good, and a marching on with determined effort to victory.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night."

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardul.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardul saved my life. I will never be without Cardul in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardul has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardul. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.

Mexican Bull Fight

Fleming Gazette.
Russell, son of C. A. Peters and wife of near here, who has made a successful hotel man, writes from El Paso, Texas, referring to a bull fight which he recently witnessed just across the line in Mexico. Mr. Peters is holding a position at the Sheldon Hotel at El Paso. He says: "I went over to Mexico today the first time since the trouble. All is quiet over there now; that is in this part of Mexico. One man was killed this afternoon at the bull fight. It was awful bad to see him get killed. I expect you would faint if you were to go to a bull fight. Lots of women can't stand it. We are doing a big business here now, working awful hard."

A True Friend

Would not give you a drug in your food.

But many persons, of their own accord, drink coffee or tea day after day—ignoring the fact that there is a drug, caffeine, in every cup.

True, you may be able to "stand it" for a time, but the drug is there, and sooner or later is pretty sure to show in some annoying ailment.

There can be no relief, until the cause is removed.

Simply leaving off coffee and tea will work wonders, but it is much easier if you shift to well-made

MORE LIGHT LESS COST

This is a time-proven fact—that electricity is the cheapest form of lighting when breakage, upkeep and time is taken into consideration. It is much easier to economize when you have only to touch a button than when you have to get a match, light a lighter, then possibly adjust the burner. THE SECRET OF LONG LIFE.

Do not sap the springs of life by neglect of the human mechanism, by allowing the accumulation of poisons in the system. An imitation of Nature's method of restoring waste of tissue and impoverishment of the blood and nervous strength is to take an alternative glyceric extract (without alcohol) of Golden Seal and Oregon grape root, Bloodroot, Stone and Mandrake root with Cherrybark. Over 40 years ago Dr. Pierce gave to the public this remedy, which he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. He found it would help the blood in taking up the proper elements from food, help the liver into activity, thereby throwing out the poisons from the blood and vitalizing the whole system as well as allaying and soothing a cough.

Mrs. Down.

No one ever takes cold unless constipated, or exhausted, and having what we call mal-nutrition, which is attended with impoverished blood and exhaustion of nerve force. The "Discovery" is an all-around tonic which restores tone to the blood, nerves and heart by imitating Nature's methods of restoring waste of tissue, and feeding the nerves, heart and lungs on rich red blood.

"I suffered from pain under my right shoulder blade also a very severe cough," writes Mrs. W. Down, of New Brooklyn, N. C. to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had four different doctors and none did me any good. Some said I had consumption, others said I would have to have an operation. I was bedridden, unable to sit up for six months—and was nothing but a live skeleton. You advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. When I had taken one bottle of the 'Discovery' I could sit up for an hour at a time, and when I had taken three bottles I could do my cooking and tend to the children. I took four bottles in all and was then in good health. My weight is now 107 pounds."

THE BLESSING OF MOTHERHOOD

Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes

Motherhood is woman's highest sphere in life. It is the fruition of her dearest hopes and greatest desires; yet thousands of noble women through some derangement have been denied this blessing.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong. San Antonio, Texas.—"To all women who desire to have children in their homes and to be well and happy I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a displacement and other female weakness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only remedy that ever helped me, and now I am a happy mother and highly recommend your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. A. B. MARTINEZ, 121 S. Laredo St., San Antonio, Texas.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I was ailing all the time and did not know what the matter was. I wanted a baby but my health would not permit it. I was nervous, my side ached and I was all run down. I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good and took the medicine. I have now a beautiful baby and your Compound has helped me in every way."—Mrs. J. J. STEWART, 299 Humboldt St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
